

We welcome you in your family's journey through Craniofacial care. We know this process may be daunting and feel stressful, BUT we want to help your family through this complex process. Our NJ CRANIOFACIAL TEAM is made up of many specialists, some of whom you will see regularly at our team meetings. Some of our specialists are seen at their offices, especially when longer evaluations, discussions, imaging studies or other tests are needed.

We like to evaluate our patients once a year, into young adulthood, to make sure that the best possible outcomes are achieved. In addition to our annual team evaluations, we recommend annual vision, hearing, and dental visits.

The doctors, nurses, therapists, and other team members that you will meet have their own private offices, but we come together as a group to provide the best possible diagnoses, treatments, and outcomes for children with cleft lip and palate, craniofacial anomalies, craniosynostosis and other disorders. We work together internationally, as well as locally. Our team does mission trips to teach medical and surgical physicians and to provide care for children throughout the world. Together, through our 501c3 organization, we support our mission: to provide the best possible, comprehensive, and collaborative care for children with craniofacial disorders.
